Happy Birthday, Mr. Hinds, my sister and I are big fans of yours (we're in Ottawa, Canada). Your portrayal of Michael Henchard was amazing. I hope you're enjoying NYC, despite the winter walloping, we all got this year ("Spring is coming...")

I look forward to watching Mance Rayder deal with Stannis and Melisandre. All the best for 2014.

When someone discovers you, sentences like "I'm not driven by my ambition to be a star. I'm just a spinner to other people's stories." are so accurate. I had no fortune to watch you on stage, but I enjoy seeing every movie and series with you. You're simply irresistible.

Happy Birthday Ciarán

Chapter 60 is completed, full of big daddy Mance Pabbie Tommy, who spent time with beauties, friends, family, audiences, fans, under exhausting schedules, in every kind of weather, doing loving, dying, dancing, saving the girl, or not saving the girl. Such a year is only accomplished by one who is in the prime of life and who extends into life fully. Congratulations. Since 61 is a prime number, my wish for this chapter is that you remain in a healthy state of body and mind, with a lot less crazy weather, that you live life fully and happily, you get all of the roles you want and one of the roles I want, and that your interviewers and we fans do not test your considerable patience beyond endurance.

*Best wishes for a wonderful birthday, on Feb 9, our mutual birthday, Mr. Hinds. I want to thank you for the pleasure you've given me watching you perform on screen, but most especially for your performance in The Night Alive in NYC. I want to thank you for giving me the incentive to give myself an early birthday treat with a long weekend trip to NY. My sister and I left behind the husbands and kids and enjoyed a great MLK weekend in NY, highlighted by the play.*

I was at the Sat. matinee performance where the 90-year-old man in the front row stood up and left during a most critical moment in the story. I was seated directly behind him; I know you saw him, cause I saw you look. I also saw Mr. Gleeson stare at the old gentleman down during the cast bow; unfortunately, he was not in character anymore. I was even more surprised when the man returned while the play was still in progress: the ushers could not restrain him? Despite the breach in the imaginary wall, I enjoyed the play immensely. Thank you once again for giving me the opportunity to see you in NYC, especially in such a small, affordable venue as the Linda Gross Theater.

I hope your birthday finds you in good health and much happiness.

Birthday Wishes From Your Fans (and a few casting suggestions)

*May you tread the boards perpetually,
Well fortified with cups of Barry's tea.
May Lear command the winter winds to blow,
Then drain a glass or two of old Bordeaux.
We wish you Nemo's journey 'neath the sea,
And grappa with Francesco on Capri;
That Mrs. Muir may meet another Ghost
While you enjoy unlimited cheese on toast;
Let Ulster's king appoint the Hound his ward,
And banish for all time the sandwich board.*

Herzlichen Glückwunsch, Mr. Hinds!

You have enchanted me last summer when I "accidentally" saw you on stage at the Donmar Warehouse. I must confess I didn't even know your name at that time and didn't understand a word (Germans grow up with American English, we evidently cannot cope with British OR IRISH accents). But after a few minutes you totally got me. Your performance of that sweet, lovable Tommy was simply the best I have ever seen.

Chapeau! and may your telephone ring for many, many years to come!

Yours, Ilka
